LIVED ON TOAST FOR SIX WEEKS

Now Free of Stomach Trouble
Baltimore Woman Says
Tanlac Is Wonderful Blessing.

The evidence regarding the value of Tanlac in the treatment of stomach trouble with its many attendant ills is too conclusive to even admit of doubt. Thousands throughout the continent have testified to the remarkable merits of the medicine and the list of testimonials grows daily as new tests of its powers are made. Among the many Baltimore people who have expressed deep gratitude as a result of having found such a great source of relief is Mrs. J. Soper, residing at 1835 West Lantana street, who says:

"Tanalac has been a blessing to me that I can never forget. It has helped me out of a case of stomach trouble that was fast wrecking my health. It made no difference what, or how little, I ate I would suffer for hours afterward. Honestly, I scarcely ate enough to sustain life and had become completely run down. Why, for six weeks before I began taking Tanlac my stomach got so bad that I could eat nothing but a little milk and toast.

"I was extremely nervous, slept poorly, and got to where I hardly had strength to do my housework or go to the store. Many a day I felt so worn out that I simply had to give up before getting half through with my work. I was under treatment for months at a time, but nothing seemed to reach my case and I kept getting worse.

"I was almost in despair when I read about Tanlac and made up my mind to try it. I believe it was a godsend to me, for I now feel like a different woman entirely. I eat anything I want and as much as I want and never have the least trouble with my stomach any more. I sleep as peacefully as a child every night and my housework, which used to be a burden, is only a pleasant recreation. Words cannot express my gratitude for what Tanlac has done for me.

"There are thousands of people in just the same condition as described by Mrs. Soper, and in such cases Tanlac goes straight to the seat of the trouble, invigorating every organ, and in a brief time resulting in a complete rehabilitation of the nerves and physical condition of the patient. Tanlac is sold in Washington by Peoples Drug Stores and all leading druggists.

CHRISTIE HUNTS SUBSTITUTE FOR CUSTARD PIES

Comedy Man Goes to Europe to Find Motif for New Farces.

By WILLIAM TAYLOR.
(Copyright, 1922, by Cosmopolitan News Service.)

NEW YORK, May 15.—Movie comedies are to be endowed with a new touch of humor, thanks to Al Christie, president of Christie Comedies, who sailed on the Olympic today for Europe, where he hopes to pick up an international funny flair to supplant custard pies, nurse maids and out-sized derbies. It's Christie's idea to satirize melodrama and overdone types of pictures. "A Son of a Sheik" is one of his ideas on satire, now being filmed in a California desert amidst five motion picture companies, all making serious Shiek pictures.

"Comedies have become as distinctive as dramas," he said. "People are no longer satisfied with the flatterings of the policeman and the burglar. I thought of burlesquing serious pictures to make this different line of comedies. The field is unlimited. 'Cold Feet' was our first, which burlesqued 'The Three Musketeers.' Then came 'The Shiek Epidemic,' and we couldn't resist having a little fun out of it all."

The producer is going to Scotland to get a first hand view of the bare knees, heather and the bonnie lassies in order to return and make an intelligent Scottish comedy. Then he'll also visit the Latin quarter of Paris, a highly popular setting for movie dramas, and get material for another farce. He won't miss the river Nile, nor the bull fight arenas of Seville, nor any of the spots the melodrama has made famous. When he returns he will be equipped with an international sense of humor, he says. One of the first pictures he will start work on will be a satire on the Graciosa type of picture, the one, you know, where the "frank, square, squandered American" wins the princess of the tiny European principality.

Next autumn will experience along with the Shiek disease, an epidemic of "choose your weapon" pictures, of knight and chivalry and such. Could a producer with an international sense of humor miss this opportunity to draw forth guffaws? Most every producer is doing a horse race picture now so the Christie company will produce a funny one on that subject called "Let 'Em Run."

Barbara Castleton has summer "stock fever." After she finishes her present picture with Daniel Carson Goodman's "What's Wrong With The Women," she will go for six weeks with the Polo Stock Company to New Haven or Cincinnati. It will be her stage debut and she has steadfastly held to the theory that personal appearances with pictures were foolish and deadly to

MEDBURY

Says One Guy Always Took His Wife With Him When He Travelled Because He Hated To Carry His Own Grips.

By John P. Medbury

A lot of people think that comedies are gloomy but there are more tears shed in a depot than there are at a man's bedside while he's making his will.

Nine out of ten passengers will have a time table in one hand and a handkerchief in the other.

And the chances are that they wipe their eyes on the time table and read the handkerchief.

Some mother will be crying because she's afraid her son won't come back and his wife is crying because she's afraid he will.

One young husband was going away for three years and his bride was weeping because she was afraid something might happen to him on the way. But he was perfectly safe, there were a couple of policemen with him.

A lot of women will go down to the depot and cry over anybody who will let them.

They do their weeping at the railroad station because their husbands won't let them do it at home.

Most of them cry because it makes them feel bad to think that they've got nobody to cry over.

Some men take their wives away the reputation. She has just completed a picture which Fox made from the French novel, "Dr. Hamon," which is a costume picture.

We casually bumped into and enthusiastically greeted Carol Dempster, the Griffith star, today and learned from her that Griffith had put her to work rehearsing for a new production, as his first work after returning from London.

It is reported that Lillian Gish has bought the rights of the stage play, "Three Wise Fools," from John Golden and will produce the picture under her own directorship, starring herself, naturally.

The only daughter of Richard Bennett, the actor, has taken up motion pictures. "Connie" Bennett, as she is known, will appear soon in several Elaine Hammerstein releases, but it was not thought that she had really entered the pictures seriously until she was seen at the Biograph studio today. She is playing the second lead in "What's Wrong With The Women."

The daughter of the famous Bennett is tall and fair and just nineteen, and dances with a grace similar to Irene Castle's.

Violet Messersreau who will soon appear in "Nero," the big Ford production made abroad, has been sent back to Rome to play the role of the princess in another Fox super-production "The Shepherd King."

DAYS' DANCING EDICT
DEFIED AT SYRACUSE

SYRACUSE, May 15.—Chancellor Days' order forbidding dancing at Syracuse University, in sorority and fraternity houses, private homes and boarding houses of students will not stop dancing by students.

The edict is branded as "unjust and unfair" by the undergraduates, who declare it will be hard to enforce. They also point out that there are country clubs where dancing can be done, and it also would be possible for groups of students to hold dances out of town without the faculty being the wiser.

University students who reside in Syracuse also are wondering whether the chancellor has the right to dictate how they shall conduct themselves in their own homes.

In his statement Chancellor Days referred to the suspensions of several students for drunkenness, and it is said such incidents at a recent dance caused his action.

GIRL, CHIN DEEP IN SEWER, RESCUED BY PASSING MAN
WEST NEW YORK, N. J., May 15.—Facing death from drowning, Miss Rose Rusch, sister of a West New York police official, was finally rescued after she had stood for fifteen minutes in a sewer here submerged to her chin.

Otto Koehler, the woman's rescuer, at first could not locate the cries for help he heard as he walked along the street, until he glanced down at his feet and saw a manhole cover loose and upside down over the sewer opening. Thrusting it to one side and peering down, his eyes finally made out Miss Rusch below. Koehler thrust down an arm and, using his other arm and legs as levers, dragged the woman up to the roadway.

She said that as she was passing that point she stepped on the edge of the cover, and, as it turned, slid down into the sewer.

To every man and woman who wears our heels

NEVER was the need of a heel that gives real protection so great as it is today.

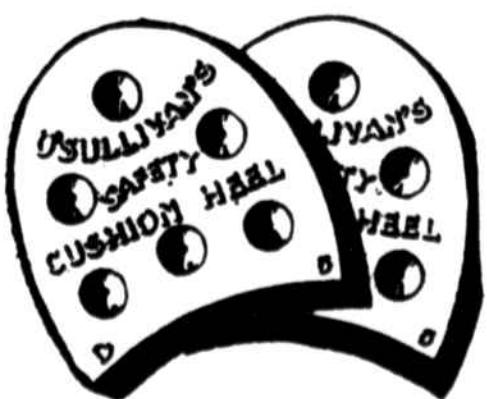

Standing or walking—wherever you are today—there is always an unnatural strain. Hard floors and pavements are practically universal. The body must have relief. Half an inch of heel must give it to you.

You generally pay the same for O'Sullivan's Safety Cushion Heels as for ordinary heels, though they cost the repairman more.

Although he makes less profit per pair on them, O'Sullivan's have two big advantages for the repairman: they always make satisfied customers, and satisfied customers mean bigger business.

The ordinary rubber heel is either hard and lifeless or soft and crumbly. O'Sullivan's Safety Cushion Heels combine maximum springiness with the toughness for long, hard wear.

Ask for O'Sullivan's—see that they are attached. The O'Sullivan Heel Company.
